

Notes for Applications to Stiftung Edith Maryon

Since modern day life involves a degree of complexity that presents individuals with ever-greater challenges to their ability to manage their lives and establish a productive relationship with their social environment, individual creativity in overcoming contemporary problems has become an increasingly important factor in finding new ways forward. For this reason, Stiftung Edith Maryon is keen to promote creativity and imaginative ways of shaping the future.

A) Funding Areas:

We are accepting funding applications relating to projects in the following areas:

- Contemporary visual and performing arts
 - Art in architecture
 - Music and art therapy
 - Medicine (focus: complementary medicine, especially anthroposophically extended medicine)
 - Pedagogy and youth education (focus: Steiner/Waldorf education)
 - Agriculture and nutrition (focus: biodynamic agriculture)
 - Endeavours to shape the social organism in line with Rudolf Steiner's concept of social threefolding

B) General Guidelines:

The following applies to all areas of funding:

1. Geographical focus: Support is afforded primarily to Swiss-based projects, and in particular to ones based in Basel and the surrounding region.
 2. No assistance is provided for individual courses of education (including continuing and advanced education) or for projects realized in connection with vocational training courses, study programs, training centers, and so forth.
 3. Funding will not be considered for projects in the field of real estate (e.g. the purchase, new build, redesign, renovation of a property, etc.).
 4. Public appeals for donations will not be taken into consideration. Any application must make specific reference to the designated funding areas of Stiftung Edith Maryon.
 5. Applications will be processed in the order received, and not according to urgency.
 6. Retrospective support cannot be provided for projects that have already started or been completed.
 7. Applications for institutional support (e.g. subsidies for rental and operating costs, contributions towards procuring or maintaining infrastructure, living expenses, or other regularly recurring contributions, etc.) will be accepted only in exceptional cases.
 8. As a general rule Stiftung Edith Maryon considers any payments made to be subsidiary support within the framework of a more broadly based project financing scheme. These arrangements must be plausibly represented in a financing plan.
 9. Funding contributions generally amount to between 2,000.– and 4,000.– Swiss francs; more rarely, contributions up to 10,000 Swiss francs may be approved.
 10. Any project that has been rejected cannot be reconsidered.
 11. All applications must contain the following information (see C8 for additional funding-area-specific requirements):
 - 11.1. Contact data (name, address, telephone no., e-mail address)
 - 11.2. Letter of application, project description, budget, financing plan

12. Application periods: applications are accepted within either of the two 3-month periods below:

1 March to 31 May, and 1 September to 30 November.

13. Applications should preferably be submitted by e-mail to gesuche@maryon.ch. Please note the following instructions:

13.1. All documents, including the letter of application, should ideally be grouped together in one PDF file (max. 10 MB).

13.2 Only when submission is not possible by email should applicants send postal submissions to:

Stiftung Edith Maryon
Kulturförderung
Gerbergasse 30
CH-4001 Basel

Documents should be submitted on A4-size paper. Since the material must be suitable for filing in ring folders, please refrain from elaborate binding (cardboard, plastic, spirals, etc.).

13.3 If unable to present a typed application, handwritten applications will also be accepted. In such cases, care must be taken to ensure the legibility and clarity of the submitted documents.

C) Supplementary Funding Guidelines and Content-Related Evaluation Criteria:

Funding of Arts Projects

1. We prioritize providing direct support to artists and their projects. Institutional applications for annual programmes are considered only in rare cases.
2. Precedence is given to applications from young artists at the start of their careers.
3. Artists realizing a project must possess the appropriate professional abilities/qualifications.
4. Funding is provided for contemporary works of art in the fields of visual and performing art.
The following areas are currently excluded: music, festivals, cabaret, and circus.
5. Funding for performing arts projects will generally be allocated only for production costs (not for guest performances/tours).
6. The creative process is at the core of our focus. More specifically in projects that focus on the creative execution and advancement of unique artistic visions. Conversely, less priority is awarded to the interpretation and production of existing works.
7. Funding for visual arts projects is generally given for the exhibiting phase.
8. In addition to the information specified above, applications must contain the following material in accordance with the particular branch of art:
 - 8.1. Director's concept, dramaturgical concept, choreographic concept (artistic form, style, etc.)
 - 8.2. Exhibition/performance concept, exhibition /performance venue(s)
 - 8.3. Work method
 - 8.4. Timetable
 - 8.5. CVs of participating artists
 - 8.6. Documentation (video links, visuals, press reviews) of previous projects (if applicable)

Other Funding Areas

Funding in other areas focuses on innovative and sustainable projects with the power to potentially influence the future shape of society and our environment. Since initiatives of this nature often extend over a longer time period, Stiftung Edith Maryon endeavours to offer long-term support to any projects deemed particularly applicable.

Exceptions to the above guidelines may be granted by the Board of Trustees, provided a project fulfils the foundations' objectives.

D) Work Steps:

1. Every application for support is evaluated according to the criteria described above. If a project is considered to be eligible for support, the foundation undertakes appropriate research in order to gain the most comprehensive possible picture of the planned project. Projects may be turned down directly if found, for formal or thematic reasons, not to meet the conditions or the goals of the foundation.
 2. The team responsible for cultural promotion presents the applications received to the Board, thereby offering explanations and recommendations serving to assist that body in making a judgement. The decision on whether to provide support is taken by the Board.
 3. Processing time: generally, notification of a decision may be expected 6 to 10 weeks after receipt of the application (see B12 for application periods).
 4. Arrangements regarding the mode of payment (e.g. one-off advance payment, payment in instalments, warranty to make up shortfalls, recurrent payments, etc.) as well as the mentioning of the foundation (with logo, without logo, etc.) will be made to suit the nature of a particular project.
